A screenshot of the 'Case Details' form in the Dell Technologies Partner Portal. The form is divided into several sections: 'Case Information', 'Unauthenticated Case Creator Data', 'Description Information', 'Additional Recipient Emails', and 'Captcha Section'. A blue arrow points from the 'Case Information' section to a callout box that highlights the following fields: 'Case Category' (Partner User), 'Case Type' (Application Support), 'Sub Type' (Partner Portal), 'Case Reason' (New user Access), and 'Priority' (High). The 'Case Information' section in the background shows 'Case Category' as 'Partner User', 'Case Type' as 'Application Support', 'Sub Type' as 'Partner Portal', 'Case Reason' as 'New user Access', and 'Priority' as 'High'. The 'Unauthenticated Case Creator Data' section has several input fields for account information. The 'Description Information' section has a 'Subject' field. The 'Additional Recipient Emails' section has three input fields. The 'Captcha Section' has a captcha image and a 'CAPTCHA' input field.
