

Software Installment Payments

About Dell Financial Services

Dell Financial Services is the captive finance company for Dell Technologies, providing payment solutions to distributors, channel partners and end-users in more than 50 countries globally, financing over $6 billion annually.

In addition to financing hardware, services and peripherals, DFS can also fund 100% software transactions, including service and maintenance fees. This is done through Purchase Plan Agreements, which are designed to meet your budgetary needs.

DFS offers flexible solutions to accommodate software acquisition, including deferred and annual payments.
