About Dell Financial Services (DFS)

Why Technology Ownership?

With a Finance Lease, your organization can take advantage of a financing product that helps power your IT needs for years to come.

If your organization wants to take a long-term ownership position on a particular technology solution, a finance lease is a viable option that you should strongly consider.

A finance lease offers a number of important benefits that work to streamline your strategic planning and budget:

• Simple financing product structure
• Fixed periodic payments
• Easy to budget repayment commitment
• Equipment ownership at end-of-lease
• Customizable repayment terms
• Ability to finance soft costs (software, licenses, etc.)

Leasing plays an important role for many organizations looking to build out their technology solutions. Acquiring these solutions with a finance lease may have a place in your strategy as well.

About Dell Financial Services (DFS)

Why Technology Rotation?

Fair Market Value Leasing is designed to provide a cost effective solution to any technology need.

A dedicated technology rotation strategy is critical to maintaining a competitive edge. A Fair Market Value (FMV) lease can help you power up your capabilities as you build out your virtualization, cloud, data center or mobility refresh initiatives.

Unlocking this powerful tool allows us to build on our partnership with you as we help manage your equipment throughout its entire lifecycle. Here’s how:

• Reduce your Total Cost of Ownership (TCO)
• Lowest periodic payment possible
• With a Master Lease Agreement (MLA) your orders are rolled up into a single recurring statement
• Return or purchase the equipment at end-of-lease
• Convenient, confidential & environmentally safe equipment disposal
